

After studying for degrees in International Relations and Maritime Policy & Law John Maggs has spent most of the last 25 years working to reduce the environmental impact of shipping. As a Policy Advisor for Brussels-based environmental NGO Seas At Risk his work is currently focused on the climate impacts of shipping and how to mitigate them at international and EU level. John has attended IMO meetings addressing environmental issues for over 20 years and is currently President of the Clean Shipping Coalition, a joint-NGO environmental organisation with Consultative Status at IMO and members on both sides of the Atlantic.